Nor DEAD ART.—Any one impresses with the idea that the cyster senson is over will find themselves greatly mistaken, if they will take the trouble to drop in at Robert Orrs, No. 11 West Fifth-street. He is still daily in receipt of Maitby's superior Baltimore oystems. Go buy a can and judge of their excellent smallles.

STREET RAILWAY CARS DEFACED .- Some of STREET RAILWAY CARS DEFACED.—Some of the cars belonging to the City Passenger Railway Company were very much defaced and multiated, night before last, by some secondrels, who, we presume, thought they had some cause to be avenged, and whose meanness and cowardice prompted this method. If these fellows must use knives, we suggest that they try them upon their own throats.

Singular Symplety of a Policeman.—A man named Robert Pox was arrested day before yesterday and confined in the Pearlstreet Station-house upon a charge of vagrancy. When brought before Judge Lowe yesterday morning, he produced a receipt from the County Treasury for taxes paid upon property valued at $10,000. In spite of the assertion of the modern Dogberry, that the man was a suspicious chiracter and without visible means of support, the case was dismissed.

ARREST OF AN ALLEGED THEEF.—A man named Patrick McClosky entered a grocery store on the corner of Ninth and Walnut, and offered to barter a fine barege dress pattern for whisky and groceries. His story aroused suspicion, and officers Jenifer and Weis were called in to arrest him. He was taken to the Ninth-street Station-house, when, upon examination, several pieces of when upon examination, several pieces of broadcloth, a pair of silver spectacles, a couple of prayer-books and some other ar-ticles, supposed to be stolen, were found upon his person.

On the 20th of March, 1850, $40,000 worth of stock was signed for the establishment of the Institute, and on the next day. Monday, March 21, the splendid lot, corner of Vine and Longworth-streets, was bought, where a grand edifice is now in rapid progress of erection.

Down a Flught of Stairs.—A widow about fifty years of age, named Duncan, residing at No. 187 West Court-street, while rapidly de-No. 187 West Court-street, while rapidly descending a flight of stairs yesterday morning, tripped and fell, striking her head with such force against the brick pavement that her neck was instantly broken. Coroner Carey was called upon and held an inquest upon the body, which resulted in a verdict in accordance with the facts. The deceased leaves three children, two girls who, we believe, are at present out of the city, and a boy about thirteen years of age. at present but of age.

The Late Malicious Assault on Waterstreet,—On Monday last we gave an account of a malicious assault which had been made by Michael Jeffries upon the person of James Tracy, who was so bedly injured as to seriously endanger his life. Jeffries was brought before Judge Lowe yesterday morning, and committed to jail to answer the charge at the naxt term of the Criminal Court. Tracy is still confined to his bed, and his wounds are such as to render his recovery even now a matter of doubt, although the symptoms seem to be quite as favorable as could be expected under the circumstances.

THE LATE ROBBERY AND OUTRAGE, -Jos. Stephens and Clements Rossman, arrested a few days ago upon a charge of violating the person of a young girl and afterward robbing her, an account of which we publised at the time, were yesterday morning examined be-fore Judge Lowe. The facts as related by us fore Judge Lowe. The facts as related by us were entirely corroborated by the testimony clicited against them, and no defense was attempted save the introduction of a couple of witnesses for the purpose of establishing the previous good character of Stephens. The crime with which they are charged is so beinous that this evidence seemed almost farcical, and the parties were committed in default of bail in the sun of $1,500 each to answer the charge of debauching the girl, and $500 each to answer that of robbery, before the next term of the Court of Gommon Pleas.

Boasd or City Improvements.—At the regular semi-weekly meeting of the Board of City Improvements, held yesterday morning, the Clerk was directed to prepare and transmit to the City Council an ordinance to repair and pave the sidewalks on Richmonfistreet, from Plum to Central-avenue.

He was also instructed to advertise for proposals to build a stone culvert under Forestavenue south of Church-street.

Three Fires Yesterday Aftersoon—Loss $12,000:—About two o'clock vesterday afternoon, a fire broke out in the building, No. 144 Third-street, occupied by Alexander Fries, as a coal-oil manufactory. It originated in the following manner: Sometime during the day one of the employes of the establishment noticed that the gas was rapidly exemping from the still used in the building, and while absent for the purpose of getting a man to repair it, the vessel burst, setting fire to the surrounding materials, used in the manufacture of oil, and thus communicating the flames to the house and those adjoining it, in a remarkably short space of time.

The Fire Department was prompt on the ground, but it was with considerable difficulty that the fire was overcome. Several buildings were more or less seriously damaged, although none of them were wholly destroyed, owing principally to the deluge of water thrown upon them by our steam fire engines. Mr. Fries loss is estimated at $3,000, upon which there is no insurance, and although it was in his establishment that the fire originated, stronge to say, he is not the largest sufferer.

A building in the rear of No. 146, owned and occupied by William Dunn, metallic roof manufacturer, was damaged to the extent of about $2,000, fully covered by insurance. The house No. 142 was also seriously damaged, and was occupied as follows: C. B. Evans, manufacturer of grates and marble mantels, loss $150; owned by R. D. Morris, loss $1,500, all fully insured. A new building, now in process of erection by Handy & Bro., contractors, and owned by Handy & Bro., contractors, and owned by Handy & Bro., contractors, and owned by Wison, machinist, loss $150; owned by R. D. Morris, loss $1,500; all fully insured. A new building, now in process of erection by Handy & Bro., contractors, and owned by Harris & Wilson, fronting on Race-street, near Third, was also injured to the amount of $600, upon which there was no insurance.

Another.—About four o'clock flames were discovered issuing from a two-story frame on Elizabeth-street, a few doors west of Central-avenue, occupied by a dress-maker named Martin. They were communicated to the roof by a defective flue, but were suddenly and finally quenched without ruising an alarm or seriously injuring the building.

Still Another.—About seven o clock a fire broke out in the third story of a building on the north side of Fourth-street, between Main and Walnut, occupied by Harlan & Wilson as a Daguerreotype gallery. It, also, originated from a defective flue, and caused a loss to the above firm of $300. The second story of the building, occupied by George L. Weed & Co., booksellers, was damaged by water to a considerable extent, causing a loss to the occupants of $300. to the occupants of $360.

COVINGTON NEWS,

STREET RAILHOADS - EXCITEMENT AMONG STREET RALHOADS—EXCITEMENT ANONG OUR CITIZENS.—A great excitement prevailed among our citizens yesterday, occasioned by the proposition from the Covington and Cincinnati Bridge Company to construct a street railway, for the purpose of carrying both freight and passengers from the river to the Covington and Lexington Railroad Depot—the freight trains to run at night only, and the passenger trains during the day.

We have not yet fully examined the ordinance granting the franchise, as drafted by Mr. Finnell, President of the Bridge Comar. Finnel, Fresident of the Bridge Com-pany, and presented to Council for the con-sideration of that body, but have only glanced at its main feature, which is, that the Company offers, in consideration of the right to lay a track on the principal streets of the city, and run cars thereon, under proper reg-city, and run cars thereon, under proper reg-ulations, for thirty years, to increase the sub-scription to the Cincinnati and Covington Bridge Company, at least $150,000, which will insure its construction.

We understand that this increase will come from certain railroad interests in Ohio, in or rom certain railroad interests in Ohio, in order to affect an uninterrupted communication for freight and passengers between the Ohio and Kentucky roads, which, it is believed, would add greatly to their business. would add greatly to their business.

The ordinance was merely presented to the Council at its last session, and ordered to be printed, and a special meeting called for Monday night next to consider the matter.

As soon as the proposition became generally known the most intense, determined and unanimous opposition to the scheme was at once manifested by our citizens. Although in favor of street railroads, they regard such a grant as the one asked in this instance as most disastrous to the interests of the city. They believe that it will be giving away a valuable franchise, and one which may be valuable franchise, and one which may be made a source of great revenue; that the increase of stock in the bridge is no consideration whatever, as the bridge must and will be built, and that, too, before the expiration of the five years in which the company propose to complete it.

What opinfons are entertained by the members of Cotheil, we do not know, and we have not sufficiently investigated the subject to speak of the merits or demerits of the objections arged, but only chronicle them as they exist.

A lively discussion may be expected, on

A lively discussion may be expected, on Monday night next, and considerable outside pressure will, no doubt, be brought to bear to defeat the measure. Whatever may be its fate, one thing is certain, strest milrosits are a fixed fact in Covington, and sufficient provision to secure their early completion can not be much longer delayed.

Fina.—Last night between eight and nine o clock, the husk-house attached to the mattrass factory belonging to Mr. Sanderson, located on Fifth-street near Scott, was entirely consumed. The flames communicated to some other huidings, but were extinguished before effecting any material damago. The loss amounted to about $200, which was amply covered by insurance. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

A STHAMER WRECKED AND SIXTY SOULS LOST.—The steamer Nierod, sailing between Liverpool and Cork, was lost with all on board on the 2d inst. The unfortunate vessel was seen about eight o'clock, between the South Bishop and Ramsay Island, driven before the gale, and to all appearances under no command. She struck on the rocks and parted in three compartments. About thirty persons were seen on board, including some six soldiers, one female with four little children, which were seen clinging to her when last observed. Three of the unfortunate creatures on board each took to a life buoy and jumped into the sea. Two of them were seen jumped into the sea. Two of them were seen to sink very soon; the other man was assisted to sink very soon, the other man was assisted by some spars, and kept on the water for about an hour, but ultimately perished. An attempt was made to throw a rope on shore, but to no purpose, as the sea was running so high. All on board disappeared with the vessel. Their cries were heartrending.

Mysterious and Horrible Affair—The Crew of a Sloop Supposed to Have Been Mundered.—The oyster sloop E. A. Johnson, of Islip, L. L. was found abandoned in the lower bay of New York on Wednesday morning, under circumstances which led the police to believe that the captain and crew had been murdered and their bodies thrown everboard. The cabin of the years, was covered with murdered and their bodies thrown everboard. The cabin of the vessel was covered with blood and human hair, as also the deck, and the general appearance of things on board denoted that the sloop had been the scene of a sanguinary and desparate struggle. The E. A. Johnson was towed up to the city by the steam-tug Ceres, and moored in Fulton Market slip. The coroner and the police at last accounts had the matter under investigation.

A Little Gibl's Idea of Danger.—The Vincennes (Indiana) Gazette is informed that, a day or two since, as the pessenger train, going west on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, was near Washington, the engineer discovered two little girls standing on the track, apparently unconcerned, looking at the rapidly-approaching locomotive. He immediately whistled on the brakes, and, reversing his engine, succeeded in stopping the train lifteen or twenty feet from where the children were standing. The seemingly unconscious little lasses looked at one another for a moment, when the youngest one, looking at her sister, said: "Didn't that thing come up to us pretty?"
